HYMN † LOVE

HYMN TO LOVE for orchestra, stuffed-animal choir, and others is a show about Europe closing its ranks. Nation after nation is crying out: “Give us back our country!” And Poles are eagerly joining in the chorus.

It is also a show about how every nation loves to forget. And how human time-bombs are so furious they’re blowing their fuses. Thus, history repeats itself. So, just for us, the chorus will sing The Song of the Forgetful Nation:

The TRUTH is that this NATION let all of this happen. It let certain of its children, the chosen children, die, even though they were never its children, children of that nation. OK. So that makes it all right. And, anyway, it wasn’t THIS country but THAT ONE: (high and low) GERMANY. And we don’t know anything about it. WE DIDN’T SEE IT HAPPEN. Certain facts have been tailored to fit the story. And since it’s only been a short time that we’ve had this country and this nation for OUR VERY OWN, we fight, fight to make it OUR country, our POLAND, ours and OURS ALONE.

So we can’t afford to take in those fugitives now, either. Oh, we simply can’t allow that. We have a lot of room but it’s not enough. We can’t squeeze anything more in. We can love them when they’re at home where they belong, and anyway it’s those who are to blame who should help them first. Besides, they’d come and grab all the special offers on smartphones, and seize all the bargains and discounts.

And the thing about us Polish people is...
A GUEST IN THE HOUSE IS GOD IN THE HOUSE

...we sure do love low prices!
